

Palma de Sant Just / Gòtic

Ciutat Vella / Barcelona

€895,000

Does that blue bathtub with the bookcase look familiar to you? It's something I would never have thought about but when I saw it I said: I need it. Being able to have that little corner to be alone, to rest from everything a little, what a pleasure. And even more so in a nest as special and unique as this one.

This apartment is a 161m<sup>2</sup> main apartment renovated in 1999. It has three bedrooms, two doubles en suite (the main one with a hydromassage bathtub) and one single en suite. It has built-in wardrobes, three full bathrooms, a large living room with access to a balcony, an office in a loft, a separate dining room, a separate kitchen with an island and an integrated day room and laundry room. The apartment has double glazed windows, ceiling fans in the living room and bedrooms and gas heating by radiators. The floors are parquet and there are Roman architectural elements. The building dates back to 1900 and has an elevator, but from the main one. It also has two community terraces.

You will love it!
