A house on the outskirts of Barcelona so you can come and go as you please. A place far away, but not too far away, to be able to continue living that life in the city that we all like so much. A refuge where you can escape when you need it most. This nest is all that and much more. With all those square meters of house and a large garden with a pool, it has enough space to become everything you need. And most importantly, it is perfect to be a home that fulfills all your dreams.

This semi-detached house is a wonderful house on the outskirts of Barcelona. It has three floors and 278m² built, 162m² useful. It has five bedrooms, four bathrooms, a living-dining room with access to a fantastic garden and a separate kitchen. In addition, it has extras such as a fireplace perfect for winter, as well as built-in wardrobes to store all kinds of things. It has gas central heating and air conditioning. Its exterior is just as wonderful: terrace, a garden and a large pool, as well as a storage room. The house, facing south, is from 1986 and has only exterior access adapted for people with reduced mobility.

You will love it!
