When I saw this apartment, the industrial vibe it had caught my attention, which I thought was very cool. The shelves, the doors, the cement floor... It seemed to me like the house of a movie character. I think that here anyone could experiment and create, imagine a thousand different worlds and then return to reality, to the shelter of this apartment.

This apartment is a first floor and has 105m². It has a bedroom, an en-suite bathroom, built-in wardrobes, a large living-dining room, a fully equipped open kitchen with an island and three balconies facing the street. It is completely exterior and is in good condition. In addition, it has air conditioning and heating. The floor is cement, it gives it a very cool touch. The building dates back to 1930 and does not have an elevator.

You will love it!
